'Red Tape' Delays Sales

By TERRI ANDERSON

The City Council has abandoned its efforts at further restricting beer and wine sales in the city. The County Judge has called a hearing to grant applications next Monday. The voters of Plano approved the sales almost two and a half months ago.

But the reality of beer and wine sales in Plano has hit yet another snag and very likely may have to wait until 1978.

County Judge Nathan E. White Jr. had planned to hear a large number of application requests at a 2 p.m. hearing Monday. Under the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Code, applications must be in to the County Clerk no less than five days nor more than 10 days prior to the hearing.

But the deadline has been missed. Not a single application has passed its first step—verification by the Plano City Secretary's office—and, therefore, Judge White will have no applications to consider at his now-moot hearing.

According to City Secretary Gene Edwards, "it's a matter of getting the processing through."

"Everybody's just getting excited, I guess," said Edwards. "It's a matter of getting the processing through and that takes a while to get in with the regular workload. Nothing else has stopped—in other words, all the other daily business has to go on."

The city secretary said that applications are being sent to the Code Enforcement Department for "checking out."

The city inspectors must make sure that the applicants' places of business are not within residential districts and are not within 300 feet from a church, school or hospital.

Beer-Wine Applications Remain Unprocessed

As of Friday, 18 applications had been received by the city and, as of yesterday, a total of 26 were on file.

But when contacted Thursday morning, Chief Building Inspector Ralph Shick said he did not know how many applications were being checked.

"There's probably nine or so," Shick said. "But I don't know the exact amount. I really don't know how many—it could be 10 or 15."

Schick added that an inspector was "out in the field" Thursday morning checking some of the applications, most of which had been on file since last Friday.

Jerry Conner, owner of One-Stop Grocery on Independence Parkway, was the first storeowner in Plano to file an application to sell beer and wine. He said Thursday it looked like beer and wine sales would indeed have to wait now until 1978—"or '9."

"When we had originally talked to him (the city secretary) he said he had to send the application to Code Enforcement," Conner explained. "It doesn't seem too difficult to me to go out and check if a store is 300 feet from a church or school (or hospital). With most of the stores, you can just drive out and look at them."

"All I can say," he added, "is that I still have all my phone numbers (of city officials) and I will do some calling."

The City of Plano has been dry since 1900 and continues in that vein months after voters have changed the city's status to wet.

For Best Sellers

Book Renting Begins

By PAM TROBOY

The waiting line for current best sellers has been reduced by the Gladys Harrington Public Library.

The city library is now renting 550 copies of popular books and current best sellers each month. The McNaughton Book Service will furnish a basic collection of 550 titles with 50 books returned each month for new titles.

Acquisition Librarian Carole Deily said that the new rental plan will serve library patrons more efficiently by supplying the new books they request as quickly as possible without a long reserve list.

Librarian Maribelle Davis noted that the staff is allowed to select which titles and how many copies of each are sent.

In the first group of about 80 books sent to Plano, the library chose to rent four copies of Colleen McCullough's "The Thorn Birds". The library has also purchased two copies to remain in the permanent collection after interest in the book has slowed.

By using the McNaughton system, explained Mrs. Deily, the library can meet current demands without overstocking the library shelves.

The McNaughton books will be shelved with the library's seven-day collection. Titles already received include the following:

"Shall We Tell the President" by Jeffrey Archer;

"Aristotle Onassis" by Nicholas Fraser;

"The Grass Is Always Greener Over the Septic Tank" by Erma Bombeck;

"Down the Seine and Up the Potomac With Art Buchwald" by Art Buchwald;

"An Autobiography" by Agatha Christie;

"Look Away, Beulah Land" by Lonnie Coleman;

"A Dual Autobiography" by Will and Ariel Durant;

"Vivien Leigh: A Biography" by Anne Edwards;

"All Things Wise and Wonderful" by James Herriot;

"Marlene: The Life of Marlene Dietrich" by Charles Higham;

"The Devil on Horseback" by Victoria Holt;

"In the National Interest" by Marvin Kalb;

Wager Winner

One of the results of last Saturday's Plano-Odessa semifinals game came home to roost Wednesday. City Manager David Griffin collected on a bet with Odessa's new administrator that Plano would win which they did 3-0. The prize which was promptly renamed 'Mojo' after the Panthers' favorite cheer will be donated to a local family for Christmas dinner. A crowd of about 50 city employees and townspeople witnessed the exchange which was featured on one Dallas telecast. For more photos see page 3. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

New Classes Planned For Adult Education

Plans for 24 programs to be offered in the school district's Adult Evening Continuing Education Program during the 1978 spring semester have been announced by program coordinator Dr. J.C. Jernigan.

Registration for 21 of the programs will be conducted from 6-8 p.m. on Jan. 10 and 11 in Building C at Plano Senior High School, 2200 Independence Parkway.

Registration for Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (STEP), Advanced STEP and Special STEP will be conducted at 6 p.m. Jan. 10 and the classes will begin at 7 that night.

First class meetings for all other courses will be held the week of Jan. 24.

Dr. Jernigan emphasized that there is both a minimum and maximum number of students that can be accommodated in each class so it is important that students register on those dates.

However, late registration will be conducted from 6-8 p.m. on Jan. 17 and 19 in the cafeteria at PSHS.

All programs will be conducted at Plano Senior High School. Monday night offerings include Auto Mechanics I and Plano Civic Choir. Tuesday evening programs will be

Pioneer Park Adds Acreage With Donation from Folsom

About 70 acres of recreational area will be dedicated as Pioneer Park.

The City Council Monday night purchased 41.6 acres for the park; but Bob Woodruff, director of parks and recreation, said that Folsom Investments has donated an additional 30 acres.

Woodruff pointed out that it's a policy of the park department to pay for net acres but to get gross acres. The property donated by Folsom is flood plain on which development is restricted.

In Hunters Glen V, the park will be bounded on the west by Roundrock Trail and on the south by a 250-foot TP&L easement.

Schimelpfenig Middle School and Beverly Elementary School will be located on about 27 acres north of the park. The schools are slated to open in August of 1980.

Neighbors Offer Football Teams Support On 'Best of Both Worlds' Street in Murphy

Residents of Moonlight Drive in Murphy have the best of both worlds—football worlds, that is. Half the homes on the street are in the Wylie Independent School District while the other half are located in the Plano ISD's limits. High schools in Wylie and Plano will be playing for their respective AA and AAAA State Championships this weekend. Helping lead the football spirit on Moonlight

Drive are (left to right) Ida Holloway and Lynn Jeffries, who have children in Plano schools; and Debra Folbrecht, Arlene Gillis and Georgie Pyeatt (with son Daniel), who have children in Wylie schools. The City of Murphy is located between Plano and Wylie on FM 544 and may hold the distinction of being the only town in Texas with students in two state-contending schools. (Staff photo.)

THE RADIO HOBBYIST

By Frederick O. Maiz
KKH-0924 - WSUTT

Executive Director, American Radio Council

The Citizens Radio Service (CB) came into being during 1958 when the Federal Communications Commission allocated a portion of the amateur radio 11-meter band for general public use. Interest in CB started off slow—most two-way communication being done by the long haul trucker. But it caught on. Now, nearly twenty years later there are over thirty million users of leisure two-way radio. No one knows for sure just how many CB'ers there are—but the FCC says there are two and one half participants for every CB license and there are over 12 million licensees.

Prior to the rapid growth of personal two-way radio, the Federal Communications Commission had adequate staffing and funds to administer the needs of the public and to enforce federal regulations and control the airwaves. The sad fact is that the budgetary and personnel needs have not kept pace with the explosive growth of two way radio. Even though the Commission's budget has increased somewhat—the amount was very small. Needed is a budget that is many times what it is today.

Back in the CB boom years of 1970 to 1976, the FCC collected $40 million in license application fees. Certainly more than adequate to fund this federal agencies needs. But that is all the FCC did.... was collect it. The Commission is required to turn all funds over that was collected to the general fund....the massive catch-all reservoir that is used by the government to pay its bills. Your federal income tax goes to this same fund.

In December of 1976, the Federal Court of Appeals delivered a decision which put the FCC in a very precarious position. The court pointed out that federal law limits fees collected to an amount that covers the cost of services involved. It ruled that the FCC was raking in huge quantities of money through CB license fees that far exceeded the costs of the CB licensing and enforcement program. The CB fee was $20 up until 1974 when it was dropped to $4. The FCC answered the court's decision by dropping license fees altogether. They weren't getting the funds anyway. Their budget is controlled by the Bureau of the Budget. The Commission is now studying the licensing situation and is trying to determine a fair fee structure. The FCC might even have to refund a portion of every license fee collected over the years and they have said that the cost of refund will be greater than the refunds given. It hardly seems fair that the Commission would have to administer this refund when they never got the funds to begin with. As far as the "system" is concerned, it amounts to a tax rebate.

But the problem still persists—in fact, it is intensifying. The FCC doesn't have the operating funds, personnel or, for that matter, the enforcement power (even if they had the necessary budget and manpower.) The Commission is an administrative agency and with the exception of levying small fines, all enforcement must be accomplished in conjunction with the Justice Department. This should be changed.

It seems intolerable that we, as radio-hobbyists, participate in a hobby that is completely regulated by strict government rules—yet these rules are essentially unenforced by this same government. The FCC does not have the capability to handle the problem as the situation exists now. Existing Commission personnel are competent....but are bogged down in more bureaucratic red tape than imaginable....with an operating budget that needs to be many times multiplied.

What is the answer? It seems to us that the radio-hobby should be paying its own way. A logical answer would be to reinstitute radio license fees with the rate set to include necessary services to the two-way radio using public. All collected funds should be retained by the Commission to fund their needs and not be assigned to the general fund which the Commission never receives.

We agree with the Federal Courts that fees collected by government administrative agencies should cover the cost of services rendered to the licensee. If the FCC could retain a $10.00 license fee (or whatever the figure is that would provide the Commission with adequate operating funds) we feel that they would have the funding to get the job done. If the federal government requires that airline passengers pay additional funds for enforcement of security as part of their fare, why shouldn't this same government require two-way radio users to pay for enforcement of the air-waves. We don't see any difference. We need a change.

If you have any questions or comments regarding the radio hobby, please direct them to "THE RADIO HOBBYIST" column in care of this newspaper. Universally appealing questions will be covered in this column.

At Heard

Wild Bird Seed on Sale

The Heard Natural Science Museum still has a limited amount of seed for feeding wild birds available for sale, left over from the recent Bird Seed Savings Day projects.

The event was held last month for the double purpose of encouraging the practice of backyard bird feeding and raising funds for the museum. Almost eight tons of seed were sold to area bird enthusiasts.

A few extra bags were ordered by the museum for people who missed the original sale. Three grades of mixed seed, economy, regular and special mix.

Prices range from $3.15 for a 25-lb. bag of economy mix to $11.05 for a 40-lb. bag of special mix.

Differences among grades depend on the proportion and variety of ingredients such as sunflower, millet, and milo seeds, peanut hearts, cracked corn, etc.

The seed may be purchased at the Heard Museum, located 4 miles south of McKinney on FM 1378, during regular museum hours. The museum is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday; 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Phone (214) 542-5012 for further information.

GI Benefit Increase Near

Veterans are a big step closer to a significant increase in G.I. educational benefits thanks to recent U.S. Senate action.

According to David Hawes, director of financial aids and veterans services at Cooke County College, the G.I. Bill Improvement Act of 1977 has passed the Senate by a vote of 91-0.

The bill, authored by Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Cal.), would grant an across-the-board increase of 6.6 percent in veteran educational benefits and give veterans a chance to receive up to twice their normal monthly benefits if they go to schools with high tuition costs.

"Although tuition costs at Cooke County College are relatively low," Hawes points out, "veterans going to school here can still expect significant upward adjustments in benefits if the bill is signed into law."

Now awaiting action in the House, the Cranston bill's main provisions are:

—A 6.6 percent increase in the amount of educational benefits. A veteran with no dependents going to college full-time would have his or her benefits increased from $292 to $311 a month; with one dependent, from $347 to $370; and with two dependents, from $396 to $422.

—Extension of the 10-year delimiting period. In a close 5-4 vote, the Senate Committee on Veterans' Affairs had deleted this provision.

It was restored on the Senate floor, however, and provides veterans who are enrolled as full-time students at the end of their tenth year of eligibility with an additional two years—beyond the 10-year period now allowed—to finish their full-time studies.

They would receive one half of their normal benefits the first year and one third the second.

—An accelerated payment program. A veteran going to school full-time at a school with tuition and fees of $700 or more would be able to receive two-thirds of every dollar spent for tuition and fees over $700, up to double his or her normal benefits.

However, the veteran could only accelerate the number of months in excess of the time he needs to complete his BA degree.

"To avoid misunderstanding," Hawes cautions, "veterans should be fully aware that this third main provision is designed to provide additional assistance to veterans enrolled in high cost programs of education."

"Moreover, the language of the bill in this provision implies that it applies primarily to those veterans working toward a four-year degree. At this point, we don't really know what effect this will have on the veteran enrolled in a one-year certification program or working toward a two-year degree, assuming that the bill becomes law."

Hawes says that his office will continue to monitor the progress of the bill in the House and that inquiries are now being made to determine its exact effect upon benefits paid to veterans attending two-year schools.

"There is no way of knowing how long it will be before the bill comes up for a House vote," he adds, "but we will watch it closely and will issue additional information as to the possible changes it may mean for veterans attending Cooke County College."

Plano Welcomes Odessa Turkey(s)

Since "Ector County turkeys run too fast to be caught," a local bird had to be substituted as the pay-off from last week's Plano-Odessa semi-finals contest. When they learned that Kerry Sweatt, Odessa's new city administrator, was about to "welsh" on the delivery of a live turkey, firefighters commandeered the FFA project of a Wylie boy. Before coming up with the 15-pounder, Sweatt, at right above, gave City Manager David Griffin an assortment of goodies in hopes that he would forego the turkey. Sweatt offered a frozen meal, a miniature speciality bird, an "Enjoy Odessa" tee-shirt and the keys to the city with an inscription "Home of the World's Largest Jackrabbit". Griffin was heard to mutter something about the world's largest welsers living there too when Sweatt finally came up with the turkey. To completely pay his debt, Sweatt was forced to sing Plano's fight song with the aid of Terri Anderson, a PHS graduate. As they left to play a round of golf, Griffin asked what the bet was going to be. Sweatt replied, "I know what it's not going to be."

Fellowship Hosts Houston Speaker

Police Capt. John LeVrier of Houston will be the featured speaker at a Saturday spaghetti dinner sponsored by the newly-formed Plano chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship.

The family dinner is to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Plano Senior High School cafeteria at Independence Pkwy. at Park Blvd.

Also on the program will be Tom Autry of Plano, who has recently recorded a new album and will be touring in California in January.

LeVrier, 64, was told by doctors in 1968 that he suffered from cancer and would probably not live more than one year. He was treated with cobalt and surgery, but cancer spread to other parts of his body. Doctors told his wife they knew of no person surviving this condition. "On Feb. 21, 1971, I was healed while attending a Kathryn Kuhlman meeting at the Shrine in Los Angeles. Since God healed me, I have not missed a day's work due to illness. I now do all the things a normal person does. I have not taken any medicine since Feb. 20, 1971, having stopped my medication at that time," said LeVrier.

The local fellowship chapter was formed in September with about 45 members. Membership has grown to about 100, and the group sponsors regular monthly breakfasts and dinner meetings. Additional information is available from the chapter president, Steve Cotten, 341-7871.

Sanders Appears On 13's 'Politics'

Barefoot Sanders, the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate in Texas in 1972, says public financing of Congressional elections is necessary, but he has some real reservations.

Sanders, on a "Texas Politics" program dealing with campaign financing, to be shown on Channel 13 at 7 p.m., Monday (December 19) and 5 p.m., Sunday (December 25) said he worries about ceding too much decision-making power in that area to the government.

Jess Hay, a chief fundraiser for Gov. Dolph Briscoe, unequivocally opposes public funding for Congressional elections, despite the experience with public funding in the 1976 Presidential election.

"We're holding the government accountable for the way it has conducted its affairs and our affairs for a period of time," Hay told "Texas Politics" host Dave McNeely.

Hugh Spitzer, a National Director of Common Cause, said that citizens' organization favors requiring candidates to raise the first $10,000 of a U.S. House race on their own, from contributors of less than $100 each.

Doug Harlan, who twice sought election as a Republican in the 21st Congressional District represented by Bob Krueger, advocated allowing citizens to deduct from their taxes contributions to candidates up to a certain amount.

Lone Star Sales Contract With Lo-Vaca Denied

Lone Star Gas Company officials were informed that the Railroad Commission of Texas entered a final order, which, in effect, denies Lo-Vaca Gathering Company relief from their various gas sales contracts, including a gas sales contract to Lone Star Gas Company.

Lo-Vaca, an affiliate of Coastal States Gas Corporation, has been delivering natural gas to Lone Star Gas Company and others, mostly in South Texas, under an interim order issued by the Railroad Commission which permitted Lo-Vaca to charge rates substantially in excess of contractual rates between it and its customers.

Lone Star Gas Company officials further understand that Lo-Vaca was ordered along with Coastal States Gas Corporation and Coastal States Gas Producing Company to refund all monies received from its customers in excess of contract rates since the date of the interim order.

In view of the likelihood of an appeal to the courts, it is impossible to predict that amount of money, if any, Lo-Vaca would ultimately be required to refund.

L.B. Hulcy, president of Lone Star Gas Company, stated that he had not reviewed the order, but that the long-term availability of gas to Lone Star customers is not expected to be materially affected, although immediate deliverability and Lone Star's formally enunciated gas supply would be reduced by the elimination of its access to gas now being delivered by Lo-Vaca.

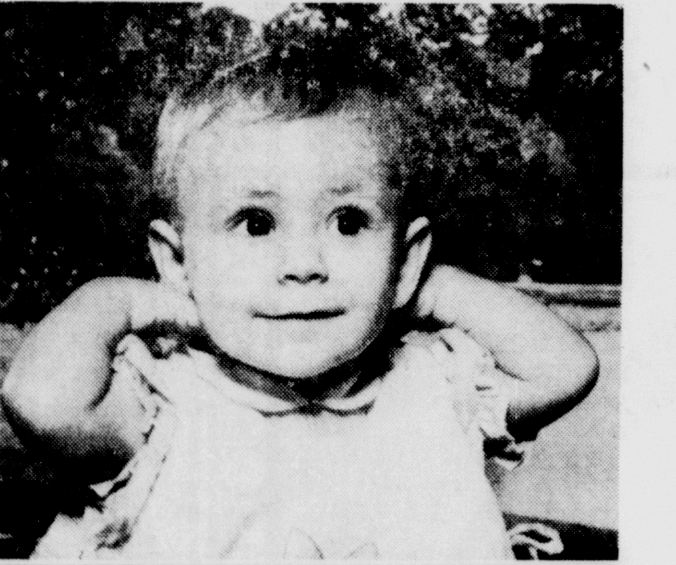

There is no expectation that such gas will not continue to be available.

This group of runners plus four more will be out to break a 24-hour running record beginning at noon Friday. These six runners, Jay Chase, Denise Bucaram, Rick Banks, Mike Braxton, Dan Sieck and Jerry Close, plus runners Darrin Wagnon, Nancy Lazarine, Mike Winchester and Todd Taylor will attempt to run more than 296 miles in a 24-hour period. Banks, who organized the marathon run, feels the group can establish a new record. They will be running at the Williams High School track until noon on Saturday. Eagle Girls Drop Two in A Row

Newman Smith Rallies Over Allen, 25-23

After getting off to a good start the Allen varsity girls basketball team have dropped two games in a row.

Tuesday night the Eagles were defeated in the last three seconds 25-23 to Carrollton's Newman Smith, a team they had beaten earlier on in the year by 21 points.

"They slowed us down," said first year coach Rick Clements, "we missed a lot of shots and most of them were just layups."

"They were apparently tired," he said, "we just weren't ready to play 'em."

Janet Hall was the Eagles leading scorer with 14 points. She was followed by Tracie Lewis with six points, Toni Hedgcox with two points and Belinda Seaman with one point.

Monday night the girls were defeated in another close game 29-24 to McKinney.

"We played real well," said Coach Clements, "they are just a real good team."

The Eagles led at the half 18-8 but the Lions overcame the girls in the second half.

Hall again was the leading scorer in the game with nine points. She was followed by Hedgcox with eight points and Tracie Lewis with seven points.

Over the weekend the girls will be participating in the McKinney Tournament. It will mark the first time Allen has participated in this tournament.

Allen will be opening against Commerce on Thursday night.

"We'll have to play well to even stay in the tournament," said Coach Clements.

Allen Eagles Top Quinlan

Allen won their second game in a row and their fourth of their last five to up their record to 4-5 as they defeated Quinlan Tuesday night 42-10 at Allen.

The Eagles led 18-6 at the half, and outscored the visitors 24-4 in the last half. The win enabled Allen to defeat Quinlan for the second time in two games.

Joe Rine led the scoring effort for the Eagles with 13 points. He was followed by Jeff Dugger with 12 points and Zenford Jones and Skipper Shipley both with six points.

Others in on the scoring were Steve Marion and John Baldwin. Marion got three points in the win and Baldwin got two points.

"They (Quinlan) felt like they couldn't play with our height so they tried to force us to make mistakes by stalling the ball, but it didn't work," said Coach Gene Maples on the low scoring contest.

The Eagles will be competing in the Rockwall Tournament over the weekend. Their will be eight schools represented at the tournament and the Eagles open with Kaufman Thursday night.

Last year the Eagles were consolation champions.

"It's a real good tournament," said Coach Maples. "We'll find out if we have improved any since the beginning of the year," he continued.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago Bears star running back Walter Payton, who missed practice Wednesday because of the flu, has been listed as probable for the game against the New York Giants Sunday.

Payton, who is chasing O.J. Simpson's season rushing record of 2003 yards, is 198 yards shy of equaling that mark.

Defensive lineman Jim Osborne also was listed as probable for Sunday's game. Others as probable include wide receiver Steve Shubert (leg contusion), linebacker Waymond Bryant (shoulder contusion), linebacker Jerry Muckenturm (ankle strain, punter Bob Parsons (back contusion) and offensive lineman Jerry Meyers (knee contusion).

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers tried out two potential punters Wednesday in case Bobby Walden is unable to kick in Sunday's game at San Diego.

Walden injured his knee when he slipped on the ice in last Sunday's loss to Cincinnati.

The punters were Rick Engles, who played at the University of Tulsa and was the Seattle Seahawks' third-round draft choice in 1976, and Phil Waggenheim, who attended the University of Maryland and has not kicked in the pros.

Wide receiver Lynn Swann, who injured his hip against Cincinnati, and defensive end L.C. Greenwood, suffering from a bad knee, were listed as questionable.

Wrestlers Beat Irving MacArthur

Plano Senior High Schools wrestling team ran their season match record to 6-0 with a 43-18 win over Irving MacArthur Tuesday night in Irving.

The Wildcats were never in serious trouble in the match as they moved out to a 25-0 lead after five matches.

Wayne Weatherman pinned Irvings Perrin in the 98 lb. class to push Plano to a 6-0 lead. Then Richard Burgess decided Youngberg in the 105 lb. class, 9-0 to put Plano out in front 10-0.

Joe Belmonte then defeated former state champ Davison in the 112 lb. class on a 5-2 decision to give the Cats a 13-0 advantage.

Plano then had two pins in a row with George Ridpath and John Murray getting Plano a quick 12 points to push Plano's total to 25-0.

In the 132 lb. class, Mark Develde, still not quite recovered from an illness lost 4-3 in a close decision to give Irving their first points on the night. Stuart Molder followed with a pin on MacArthurs Harris to give the locals a 31-3 margin.

Jimmy Rommell was pinned by Lawrence to give Irving 12 points on the night. The Wildcats followed that up with two pins. The first in the 167 lb. class Charlie Myers pinned Robinson and then in the 185 lb. class Frank Mederois pinned Skipper to give Plano a 43-12 lead with only the heavyweight division to go.

Mark Williams was pinned in the second round to give MacArthur the final points of the night.

"These people beat us more by than 40 points two years ago when we first started," said Coach Webb.

Season Initiated For City Adult Leagues

The 1977-78 Adult Basketball Leagues, sponsored by the Plano Parks and Recreation Department, tipped off Wednesday and Thursday nights with 16 games being played in the Men's Open Leagues, Over 30 League, and Men's Church League.

In the Men's Over 30 League, Bruton Paint had an easy time with the Independents. They flew to a 33-13 half time lead, and extended the lead in the second half to a final score of 76-24. Joe Svoboda was high point man for the game with 24 points. Ron Rainey had 12 points for the Independents.

The action slowed considerably in the next Over 30 league game, as Stone Development trudged out a 31-23 victory over Christ United Methodist. It was a come-from-behind victory, as Christ United Methodist lead 13-8 at the half.

In the other Over 30 league game, Micro defeated the Old Raiders 60-46.

In the Men's Open

American League, Rockwell B defeated State Farm 78-41. Nixon Drywall beat Triangle Electric 46-39. Plano Jaycees squeezed by the Independents 38-36.

In the Continental Division, Nixon Insulation beat the Generals, First Baptist Church beat J.B. Davis Transfer, and I.S.I. beat Rockwell A.

In the National Division, the UTD Scrubs beat Fox & Jacobs; Art Tones team beat Domestic Leasing; and ASTRO beat Pizza Casa.

In the Men's Church League, Disciples Christian beat First Baptist Bees; St. Marks forfeited to First Baptist; Meadows Baptist forfeited to Christ United Methodist.

'Cats Win, 66-61

Plano Improves Record to 4-7

By Beating Arlington High

Plano Senior High's Wildcats played to near perfection Tuesday night in beating Arlington High 66-61 at the PSHS Activities Building.

Coach Mike Bridges, whose team is now 4-7, could find little wrong with the Wildcats.

"We played super defense," Coach Bridges said. "But, we still play in spurts offensively. If we ever have a full offensive game, we're going to have a fine basketball team."

The Wildcats shot 54 percent from the floor and 95 percent from the freethrow line. They committed only 15 personal fouls. In general, Plano did very little wrong that could help Arlington.

Plano led the entire game, extending their lead to 10 points in the third period and then playing a slow-down offense in the fourth quarter to run the clock down.

Even without starter Travis Benke, 6-3 post who broke his arm and is lost for the season, the Wildcats played superb. Flip Redden and Gerald Lee controlled the inside for Plano with 9 and 10 rebounds respectively. Redden also had 12 points and Lee contributed 10 points.

But Plano's leading scorer was Benke's replacement, Chris Sabonis. Sabonis came through with 17 points, most of those off rebounds. Bill McKinney helped the Plano cause with eight points and Dane Herbel continued his consistent guard play with nine points.

Richard Campbell put six points on the scoreboard and Jamie Oakry rounded out the scoring with four points. Also playing but not scoring were Dan Davis and Jim Thrash.

In the Junior Varsity game, Plano won 38-25. Coach Gary Moseley's Wildcats held a 15-2 edge after first quarter play and held a 21-10 halftime edge.

However, in the third period, Arlington rallied defensively and came within three points, 23-20. In the fourth period, Plano had to shift into high gear to protect their lead.

"We started out good in the first half against their man-for-man defense. We were really eating them up and the score showed that," Coach Moseley said.

"But, then in the second half, they threw up a zone defense and we didn't adjust to it until almost too late," Moseley added.

Kirk Waggoner led scoring with 12 points followed by Joe Simmons with six, Chris Knowles with five, Ree Smith and Larry Wallace with four each, Alford Haynes and Lee Edwards with two each, Ralph Youngblood with a bucket and Rick Curtis with one.

Six Buses To Make State Trip

Six buses sponsored by the Richardson Credit Union in cooperation with the Plano Quarterback Club will take Planoites to the State football game at Texas Stadium Saturday.

Provided free of charge, three buses will leave from the Plano Senior High School parking lot at noon and three will leave from the Richardson Credit Union, 720 E. Arapaho.

Reservations can be made by calling Joy Braden, 424-8495.

Taylor Sparks Allen 8th

Allen's Troy Taylor scored 12 points in their game against Bonham Monday night to help spark the Eagles to a 31-18 victory.

Following Taylor in the scoring were Alan Davis with seven points, Marc Holloway and Kye Harris both with six points.

"The boys started off real well, but seemed to slow down and make a lot of mistakes in the middle part of the game," said Coach Warren Saucier.

Friday night the Eagles once again behind Taylor who scored 15 points, defeated Quinlan 32-13 at Quinlan.

"I was real anxious to see the outcome of this game," said Coach Saucier. "We had played them earlier in the year and it was a real close game."

Not this time, however, as the Eagles raced to a 6-0 first quarter lead and a 16-10 halftime lead to defeat Quinlan.

Following Taylor with five points was Davis, Holloway with four points, Harris, Brent Sherman, James Cardwell and Dale Burnside all with two points.

"The effort put out by these kids is great," said Coach Saucier.

City Champions of the Plano Sports Authority Sophomore II Division are the War Eagles. Coached by Jack Ginther and Phillip Garcia, the players are J. Carson, G. Gunter, D. Ansley, B. Peirman, C. Meyers, B. Tabor, S. Eiselle, T. Boudreau, S. Lind, M. Floyd, B. Brooks, S. Downs, T. Foster, B. Lester, S. Hall, J. Reeves, D. Alexander, and B. Shell. They posted an 8-0-1 record. Bread isn't for the birds

By Polly Cramer

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — In the winter I always feed our feathered friends as they need help when snow is on the ground. I was told that I am doing the birds harm by feeding them bread as the bread will freeze in their stomachs and they suffer and may even die. Please tell me if this is true. — MRS. B.C.

DEAR MRS. B.C. — I was advised by a large nature center that it is not a good idea to feed bread to birds as they cannot digest it when it becomes damp. Also the bread attracts English sparrows. They recommend putting out non-processed seed such as sunflower seed or a wild bird seed mix. It is also important to put out water for the birds. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — Like D.J. I, too, had a problem with rust in the lavatory and tried pouring a small amount of white vinegar in the lavatory. This worked very well but some stain remained so I soaked a wash cloth in the vinegar and let it set on the stains for ten minutes and this worked like magic. — FLORENCE.

DEAR POLLY — When I changed the color scheme in my bedroom I was left with a good king-size bedspread that I could no longer use. I cut it down the middle and then cut some off the tops of the two pieces. This left enough for two twin size quilts. I left the rounded lower edges. When I hemmed the long cut sides I rounded the two square edges at the bottom to match those that were already on one side of each quilt. They look very nice. — FRANK.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Mrs. J.F.S. whose Peeve concerned the safety caps on medicine bottles that she should ask her druggist to put plain caps on all her prescriptions and he will surely oblige. I only had to call mine once to ask this and he has remembered ever since. It certainly has helped me. — RUTH.

DEAR POLLY — Have you ever had the bottom of a skillet turn black? If so, I have a cure. When ready to wash dishes wash that skillet first, turn it upside down on the counter and spray oven cleaner on the bottom so that it covers all the burned on grease. By the time you have finished with the dishes you can remove the cleaner with an old towel and then rewash the skillet to make sure all the cleaner is off. Polly's note — Protect your counter with newspaper. — BRENDA P.

DEAR POLLY — I have a good use for worn-out socks. Slip such a sock over your hand with the hole on the back of the hand and use this for dusting. When one side gets dirty just move the sock around.

A dry cotton-tipped stock is very handy to use for removing mascara that you may have smudged under your lower lashes. It cleans up quite nicely with such a stick. — LYNN.
